JUILLIARD LEAVES $5,000,000 TO KIN

Nephew, Partner in Firm, Gets Big Legacy-Music Foundation Receives $20,000,000.

BEQUESTS TO SERVANTS

Many Relations, Friends and Several Institutions Benefitted in Will.

Bequests of cash and trust funds to valatives totalling more than $5,000,000 are provided for in the will of the late the residuary estate of possibly more than $20,000,000 to the promotion of musical art.

The remarkable document, which is of the promoted by allowing his survivors a free rein in the man-interest particularly to music lovers the world over, was examined yesterday by a representative of THE SUN at the office Surrogate John D. Swezey at Goshen, Y., where it has been filed for pro-

The preliminary statements regarding the will issued by the attorneys for the terday morning, failed to explain the unusually broad power with which the testator vested the trustees who are to administer the fortune he leaves to aid struggling genius and foster good musi-cal productions. They also omitted to mention the legacles to twenty-five relatives and the minor bequests made to servants in the Julliard household. By far the largest private legacy is that willed to Frederick A.
